

A teacher is God's representative on earth—chosen by God—with the sacred office to minister to His Children in their times of need. It is my belief that a teacher's responsibility is to see to it that all of God's children who come to them are well fed with God's wisdom (truth) so that they may wind up satisfying their needs in God's healthy and happy way.

Therefore, I believe it is the right of God's Children to:

- 1. Come to a teacher with their needs openly without fear of rejection or condemnation.
- 2. Confess their needs (Ask for help to solve their needs).
- 3. Receive a kind-hearted, loving advocate who is willing to help them.
- 4. Commit (vow) with their teacher to seek their solutions God's way.
- 5. Utilize their teacher's help to understand the wisdom (truth) that God is trying to tell them.
- 6. Judge for themselves if this truth is unconditional and genuine—from a selfless source (delivered from God's loving Spirit)—given up just for them.
- 7. Allow themselves to trust (connect with) His truth in their hearts.
- 8. Accept responsibility (ownership) to follow God's truth.
- 9. Devote themselves to working God's truth.
- 10. Secure His Solution to their needs.
- 11. Be free to share His Solution with others.
- 12. Be happy and satisfied (content).
