

"dreams"

(by Matt Moon)

Dreams evaporate like nothing was ever liquid or solid about them something you could drink and feel especially if it was very hot or very cold
but dreams in the air feel like nothing at all even if they enter my lungs and energize my blood
but boy
oh boy
you sure do notice when there's nothing in the air your body sure don't like that it sure don't feel good at all
