SONNY VINCENT PRESS CLIPS

...this guy is still kicking out quality music. Furious punk and roll that will more than likely knock your socks off. Faster paced, lots of guitar and just delivered like he's going for the knockout punch.

Maximumrocknroll Fanzine #209
USA October 2000

It's punk, it's rock, and it's good so go get it. What are you waiting for, your man?

Joe Domino
Blank Generation E-Zine, 2002

"Let it be known, the man is rocking! ...[The album "Pure Filth"] is a high energy, high octane, kick ass, unpolished, loud as hell, rock'n'roll album, with its roots firmly planted in the Stooges/MC5 mould."

Henrik

Neat Damned Noise Fanzine, Houston, Texas 1998, USA

"Put the needle down...JESUS COCKSUCKER CHRIST! This thing is fucking INCREDIBLE!"

Todd Trickknee

Blank Generation E-Zine, 2002

"Only good things deserve the trademark "Vincent". Classic, undestroyable rock'n'roll with a cool swing. Buy this one now."

Tom Tonk
Hullabaloo Fanzine, Germany 1996

"One of the most sparkling figures in American punk'n'roll... what kind of muse has kissed this man."

Piste Magazine
Germany 1997

"Sonny Vincent as composer, producer and on lead vocals; Scott Asheton behind the drums; Captain Sensible on bass, Cheetah Chrome on guitar, assisted by Scott Morgan on three titles...To find something better, you'd have to gather John Lennon, Kurt Cobain, Jimi Hendrix and Jim Morrison."

Patrick Tad Foulhoux,
Rock Sound Magazine, France 1998

"High class New York punkrock'n'roll. Sonny's vocals and guitar are as unique as usual."

The Flying Revolverblatt Fanzine
Germany 1995

"Very New York, very punk. Go, Sonny, go!"

Maximum Rock'nRoll Fanzine
USA 1997

"Call it New York punk rock, call it high voltage R'n'R, call it what you want Sonny plays it with integrity."

Kike Turmix
Running News Fanzine, Spain 1997

"His songs are still radiating an indestructible freshness, that saves them from getting frozen in a genre."

Frank Schütze
ZAP Fanzine, Germany 1996

"Brooding and bruised rock power punched across unremitting edginess. Prime headcheese."

Juke Magazine
Australia

"This music bristles with the power and the live show is a 'must see'."

Entertainment Guide
Montreal, Canada

"Nerve-wrecking tension like a roller coaster ride where you have to pull yourself together and have some courage...Sonny has all you expect from a hard boiled rock'n'roll desperado. There's desperation and hope in his voice, pain and euphoria. The songs have everything you also find in classical Alex Harvey, Johnny Thunders, and Henry Rollins songs. "Roller Coaster" is one of the best rock albums ever since."

Money Mix
Bierfront Fanzine, Germany 1993

"Songs that get to the point fast and without compromise plus melodic ones with good hooklines. Music to listen to all the time."

Daily Grind Fanzine
Germany 1995

"Especially the two very fast songs "You Don't Break My Heart" and "Primitive" give me the goose bumps."

Advisor Magazine
Germany 1995

"The new album has all the intensity of a Sonny Vincent work, which is even topped on stage by the man."

Michael Frohoff
F & K Fanzine, Germany 1995

"Damn hard, fast, 15 Songs in not much more than 30 minutes. As usual, the lyrics are made for people whose ears are connected to their brains."

Lutz Hauck
Goar Fanzine, Germany 1995

"The extraordinary songs with their powerful interpretation inspire one to pay attention to a maniac like Sonny Vincent"

D. Jerkovic
Heroína Nova Fanzine, Croatia 1995

"A cool record that doesn't need all this "hard" attitude, because the music and lyrics hit you like a hammer anyway.

Supercockassbuttdickschweincool!"
Tom Tonk Hullabaloo Fanzine, Germany 1995

"If he was Batman, Wayne Kramer, Captain Sensible and Scott Asheton etc. would be his Robins... BUY THIS SHIT! IT'S HOT, DAMMIT!"

Alexander Schuth
Superstar Magazine, Germany 1998

"...more energy than a nuclear power plant..."

Henning Richter
Hammer Magazine, Germany 1999

"This record kicks ass, ladies and gentlemen."

Sandra Hart
Lärmkessel Fanzine, Germany 1996

"I listened to this one in a quiet moment headphones on - and what shall I say? It's a hit from A to Z... songs like "Don't Tell Me" or "I See" are without a doubt two of the best punk smashers that ever reached my deafened ears... get this immediately.
Buy or die, bastards!"

Plastic Bomb Fanzine
Germany 1995

"Stand up, raw snotty sound, those who don't get themselves these recordings must be either imbeciles, ignorant or deaf - or most likely all three at once."

Wahrschauer Fanzine
Germany 1996

This is s-o-o-o-o rocking! I'll put in an extra '!' just for effect! In case you haven't worked it out yet!

From the nightmare car accident that is "Knifeman" - a sonic warning to fasten the seat belt - that's followed, in quick succession, by the aural hammering of "Dedication" (with a killer riff and hook to match) and the insistent battering ram that it is "Good Ideas"....it's the most defiant, ballsy opening to a disc that these ears have heard for some time. Savage, take-no-prisoners stuff, with all the impact of a well-placed heart punch.

Review of "Parallax In Wonderland" by The Barman at I-94 Bar Website, Australia 2000

Guitar-overdrive-mayhem garage-rock... It's very grease-stained, but also carrying something fuzzed and swirled through the noise. It's full-blown revolution Detroit distorted style and it drives, drives... drives.

Marcel Feldmar
Ink 19 Magazine, USA 2000

'Beyond Rebellion' is a real smasher. The songs have such a "still-not-corrupted-after-all-these-years" attitude and directness, that it makes me euphoric, Sonny makes it rattle. And squeak. Slam. Flow. Rock. Splash. A pure, powerful and bitter-sweet release."

Wolfgang
Sunset Fanzine, Germany 1992

"I prefer records by punk idol Sonny Vincent. This man has been a guarantee for high class quality punk rock for years...And where it says VINCENT on the cover, VINCENT is what you get, and that means on the new cd...you get what you expect."

Drunk On The Moon Fanzine
Germany 1995

"Buy or die!"

Jeff Dahl
Your Flesh Magazine, USA

VOCALIST, GUITARIST, SONGWRITER
A PERSONAL HISTORY

This is a brief outline of Sonny Vincent's history, to some it may read like the perfect script for a movie about a Rock'n'Roll desperado on his way to becoming an icon. But this story is not from any movie folks or about any media hype, it's about the real thing... A real rock'n'roll hero with the passion, the energy and the feeling. The integrity of his music is obvious in the opening notes of each and every song. The audience reaction at his live performances can only be described with words like 'possessed' 'uninhibited', 'intense', 'wild'. Born in New York City and raised on its streets and in its clubs. At age 13 he illegally lived in a girls' dorm on the campus of N.Y.U. with three female students. At 14 he played his first show in the Village. At 15 he spent some time in reform school. But all through everything always writing and performing with his 1969 Gibson Les Paul. There is a lot of history to tell such as a two year jail term for possession of one joint, but it is all right there in the music and that's where it screams out loud and where you can find it ...all the pain as well as the excitement from someone who has lived wild and hard. As you find out more and more of the bits and pieces of his life you really feel someone could make a movie about him... but like I said its all in the music. Listen to it, you'll know, too.

Alain Courtre

1976 Sonny Vincent forms the group TESTORS. The original TESTORS was a three piece group: with lots of yelling and screaming, lots of dissonance, two loud guitars, primal drums (with no hi-hat) and they did not use a bass player. The line up: Sonny Vincent, vocals and guitar; Gene Sinigalliano, guitar; and Gregory R., drums.

1977

Testors constantly performs shows in N.Y.C. mostly at CBGB's and Max's Kansas City with groups such as Mink DeVille, Teenage Jesus & The Jerks, The Cramps, Dead Boys and many others. Later in the year they begin headlining. This year Sonny also spends six months in a jail. A special "reform school" for underage criminals. Labeled by the court as a 'PINS case' (person in need of supervision), his infractions include trespassing, destruction of city property and drug possession.

1977-78 TESTORS tours the East Coast of the U.S.

1978 TESTORS goes through some changes. Gregory the drummer gets in some violent situations and leaves town. Testors bring Jeff Couganhour (West) from Cleveland in on drums and finally add a bass player to the band. The bass player's name is Ron Pieniak a surrealist painter/artist, as well as a good friend of Sonny and Gene who lived together with Gene in the Testors loft. Ron's stint with Testors although short-lived was the first version of Testors with a furious pounding bass. As well as playing bass for Testors Ron designed many of the flyers used to promote their shows in New York City.

1979 TESTORS adds a new bass player Kenneth Brighton and Sonny experiments with writing songs with more than two parts and somewhat of a melody. They go on a major groundbreaking tour across the U.S.A with the Dead Boys. Soundmen run for the hills and hotel managers check their insurance policies!

Sonny records 'Solo' album with Sam, Jim and Mike from the group "Chain Gang". Album is still unreleased.

1980 TESTORS releases a single titled "Time is Mine/Together" on Bleeker Bob's "Drive-In" label. TESTORS does shows with the Cramps, Iggy Pop, Steel Tips, Suicide etc. Following a series of intense episodes that include a fight with Lenny Kaye (Patti Smith Group) live on New York radio (broadcast live from the new C.B.G.B. theater) and setting a fire onstage that got out of control (sprinklers turn on and the entire club with audience, band and equipment are soaked) Sonny is taken to Wingdale mental hospital upstate in New York for observation and treatment. After three months he is released and begins filmmaking. Along with filmmaking he is active as a multi media installation artist in New York City.

1981 Sonny leaves New York and moves to Minneapolis; forms SONNY VINCENT AND THE EXTREME with Mike Phillips, Jeff Rogers and Mort Baumann. Tours the U.S. as same. SONNY VINCENT AND THE EXTREME self-release a single "SVE" on an Eva-Tone flexi disk. This group, as most of Sonny's later groups, had a "revolving" line up. Notable members are Chris Osgood (Suicide Commandos) and Luigi [aka Louis] (Luigi played with Johnny Thunders on the ROIR tape and toured with Johnny, Luigi also toured with Bo Diddley.)

1982 In 1982 he is arrested for wreckless driving, driving without a valid license, drug possession, assaulting police officers and resisting arrest. This gets him 8 months in jail.

1983 Recording with "Sonny Vincent and the Extreme", involved in a performance art project that gets him banned from the grounds of the Minneapolis College of Art and Design, receives a national "developing artist" grant to finance his filmmaking projects. Buys a Ford van with the grant money and tours the U.S. with his band.

1985 Sonny Vincent's film "Mannequin World" is shown in Minneapolis on the TV show "Moondance", in N.Y. at the Kitchen and also at various museums and art institutions around the U.S. Sonny does a major visual art installation in St. Paul, MN. It involves film, sound, light and sculptural elements, manipulating sensory perception. Collaborating with artists Susan Lucey (professor of art University of Minnesota) and Stan Shetka.

1986 Release of a Sonny Vincent solo single called "Lesson in Life". This song charts in U.S. Indie stations and college radio charts. No.1 in Milwaukee, No. 8 in Minneapolis etc.

1987 Sonny Vincent and Bob Stinson (former Replacements) form a group they call MODEL PRISONER. They mostly play in Minneapolis and do a couple of U.S. tours. The other members were: Mike Henderson, Eric Magistad, Jeff Rogers.

1988 MODEL PRISONER records an album at Twin Tone Studios. The band then consists of Sonny, Bob, Jim Michaels and Mike Henderson. After the group is denied access across the border to Canada, the group cancels a Canadian tour, goes back to Minnesota, gets drunk and decides to go to therapy sessions as a group. Bob and Sonny's negligence in attending the first therapy session prompts the others to leave the session and quit the band. Bob and Sonny get drunk.

1989 Sonny forms SHOTGUN RATIONALE. Records a debut-album called "Who Do They Think They Are?" with Moe Tucker (Velvet Underground) as producer. Sonny tours Europe with MOE TUCKER & HALF JAPANESE as their guitarist. (Half Japanese line up: Jad Fair, Hank Beckmeyer, John Sluggett and Joe Martinelli). SHOTGUN RATIONALE does a Midwest tour. 1997 Sonny releases a solo album called "Good Dogs Die Young" (on Noiseworks Records/Germany), featuring tracks recorded with THE DONS and an exclusive release of songs Sonny originally recorded late 70's to early 80's. Sonny Vincent puts together a project album that he and the members in the line up had talked about for three years. The line up is: Scott Asheton (ex-Stooges), Captain Sensible (The Damned) and Cheetah Chrome (ex-Dead Boys). They record in Nashville, Tennessee; the band is called SONNY VINCENT AND HIS RAT RACE CHOIR. The album is called "Pure Filth" and it is released on a small label in Switzerland called "Overdose Records".

After the U.S. tour there's a successful and wild European tour. The various band members include

Ivan Julian from Richard Hell & the Voidoids and Bobby Steele from the Misfits. Notable events:

The van gets broke into in Dublin and 8 videotapes from live shows amongst other things are gone forever.

Many of the shows are completely sold out and overbooked.

Uzi the drummer goes to the embassy to get his passport renewed and makes the mistake of putting a bag of garbage into a box that is actually for newspapers. The police were called and the bomb squad were called, the entire building was emptied out until they found out it was Uzi's innocent little garbage bag.

Sonny gets arrested for smashing a decibel meter. The decibel meter is a handheld device to measure how loud the music is. Sonny took and smashed it. After being arrested he said: "Of course I smashed it, that's an anti-rocknroll device... I'm supposed to smash those, right?"

Sonny is currently in the studio working on a new album, as well as helping friends get their record deals and tours together.

PARALLAX IN WONDERLAND Sonny Vincent

( Devil Doll Records )

Sh-i-i-i-i-t! Plonked this into the CD player in the Bar the other night after a patron called Jamie dropped it off and choked on my Crown Lager! This is s-o-o-o-o-o rocking! I'll put in an extra '!' just for effect! In case you haven't worked it out yet!

From the nightmare car accident that is "Knifeman" - a sonic warning to fasten the seat belt - that's followed, in quick succession, by the aural hammering of "Dedication" (with a killer riff and hook to match) and the insistent battering ram that it is "Good Ideas"...it's the most defiant, ballsy opening to a disc that these ears have heard for some time. Savage, take-no-prisoners stuff, with all the impact of a well-placed heart punch.

So who's Sonny Vincent? Glad you asked, 'cos he was a stranger in the I-94 Bar until recently, when missives from the likes of Do the Pop editor Alan Wright and comments by Ron Asheton wised us up. Sonny used to tread Lower East Side boards in a band called the Testors, supporting the likes of the Cramps and the Dead Boys, and has been playing professionally since age 14. He went on to jail, Moe Tucker's band and, more recently, the touring circuit in Europe and various parts of the States with people like Cheetah Chrome and Steve Blaise (Devil Dogs). Adding their talents on "Parallax..." are regular collaborators Scott Asheton and Captain Sensible, as well as Wayne Kramer and Ron Asheton.

Recorded in Michigan and L.A. (Sonny's current home), it's pleasurable raw in a way that marks the very best rock and roll. There are so many highlights on this disc. "2 Years 1 Joint" - a biographical rant - drips the sort of anger that can only be real. Listen to "Don't Care Anymore" and try and convince yourself Sonny doesn't. Captain Sensible - he of bass duties in the punk theatre of the Damned, re-born as a spikey pop protagonist in solo band mode - rightly gets a credit for his succinct lead break in "Do What I Want", which is another scorching stomp. It's all hard, and it's all fast, and it mostly all rants but, more often than not, it also not has a hook or chorus that leaves you hitting the replay button (case in point: "Signed in Blood").

The pace only eases for the melancholic "Lost Again", the mid-tempo raunch of "Change Now" and the twisted closer "French Music" (Cool lyric: "Have a caffe latte...and a croissant...French music sucks, but it's nice"). A languid, off-the-wall wind down (replete with Ron Asheton doodlings) after an otherwise frenetic journey that might have left you pausing for breath - if so, stiff shit. If you're a wimp what are you doing in the Bar, anyway?

Sorry to rave but as Jules Normington regularly says in the Phantom mail order auction lists: "You really need this".
