LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to encourage you to seriously consider Stevo Wolfson for employment with your organization. I have known Stevo professionally for over thirteen years and I have seen him grow tremendously. Stevo has demonstrated skills in the area of video production, interactive media design and testing and desktop publishing. While his experience is broad his focus for the last two years has been in designing graphics for interactive training projects for sale to the foodservice industry.

Stevo's strengths are in his creative and design sense, his attention to detail and his reliability. Stevo worked for the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation for nearly two years helping with the design and testing of several technology based interactive applications. Stevo is very flexible and helpful. In many cases he exceeded my expectations by suggesting changes or identifying issues with our products that had not previously been considered. We used Stevo's skills in various different capacities including desktop publishing, graphic creation, testing, video production and design.

Stevo is professional and reliable and works well with many different types of people. I believe that Stevo would be a valuable asset to your organization.

Sincerely yours,
Timothy Darden
