

DID YOU KNOW?

Great Western Erectors is a construction company helping build the ASU McCallister Academic Village

Unfortunately, Great Western workers are subjected to a number of abuses including poor safety and working conditions and lack of affordable family insurance. A number of workers of Great Western Erectors have been on strike in Arizona and Texas protesting their working conditions, including the lack of available drinking water at some job sites!

Great Western has threatened employees and attempted to intimidate workers who have spoken up. During one incident, a Great Western Superintendent displayed a handgun to striking workers!

ASU has a responsibility to ensure its subcontractors treat workers fairly and obey the law. ASU can help stop the abuse and mistreatment of workers at Great Western Erectors.*

To learn more: Come October 11th 3:00-4:30 P.M. to the Memorial Union Rm. 218 Pima www.angelfire.com/az3/asujoe

*Justice at Great Western, Ironworkers Local #846 c/o 950 E. Elwood St., Phoenix, AZ 85040. 602/268-1449

