FEATURED PRESENTERS

PAT BRADLEY, MA, LAT

Pat Bradley is a hospital chaplain at the United Medical Center in Cheyenne, WY. He is a certified member of the National Association of Catholic Chaplains and a Certified Pastoral Counselor with the College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy. He is an instructor for the course Religious Aspects of Domestic Violence. In addition to his theological training, Pat has a Masters Degree in Counseling from Colorado Christian University. He is an ordained Roman Catholic deacon with over 22 years experience in parish ministry and pastoral counseling, as well as chaplaincy. A nationally known speaker, Chaplain Pat has presented workshops for the Association of Professional Chaplains, the Health & Sciences Television Network, and local chaplain groups. Pat is chairman of the Governor's Domestic Violence Elimination Council.

MARGUERITE McCORMACK, MA, LPC

Marguerite McCormack, MA, LPC is the Director of Trauma Services for Jefferson Center for Mental Health. She was the Project Director for Columbine Connections, the community-based response to the shootings at Columbine High School, for the duration of the program. She also served as the Clinic Coordinator for the Student Counseling Clinic at the University of Colorado at Denver. Ms. McCormack trains and consults extensively on trauma, trauma therapy, vicarious traumatization, and community response to disaster and trauma. She is the principal author and presenter of the Colorado State Training in Crisis Counseling.

JON RICHARD, PsyD, Prof. LLC

Jon Richard, PsyD, Prof. LLC provides professional and lay education, program- and policy-development assistance, post-crisis support, and clinical case consultations to assist client agencies, schools, communities, professionals and the public to respond effectively to persons at risk of suicide. Dr Richard serves client agencies through workshops, management consultation groups, teleconferences, and Internet webcasts. Services are offered at beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels, and are customized to meet the needs of those attending, such as mental health professionals, crisis workers, public safety professionals, teachers and other education professionals, students, substance abuse counselors, pastoral counselors, peer counselors, client and consumer groups, and advocacy organizations.

RELIGIOUS ASPECTS OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

MARCH 22, 2003

9:00 am-4:00 pm Outreach School Bldg., Beta House, Medicine Bow Room
This workshop deals with the Nature of Domestic Violence (statistics, power, why it continues, roadblocks, do's and don'ts); Perpetrator's Excuses (e.g., blaming the victim, "the bible says...", drinking and drugging); Domestic Violence as Learned Behavior (accepted by society, accepted by the church, taught in the media, "not caused by...", assault); Domestic Violence and Scripture (Gospel, Hebrew and Christian passages); Protection Orders (how to get them, who is most knowledgeable, what good is a piece of paper?). The workshop will include role playing and group exercises. This course is certified by P.O.S.T. for Peace Officers, Detention Officers, Dispatchers, and Coroners. (6 Contact Hours)

CRISIS COUNSELING, TRAUMA, & RESPONSE: A MULTI-LEVEL APPROACH

- CRISIS COUNSELING PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICES APRIL 23, 2003
- CRISIS AND TRAUMA INTERVENTION FOR PROFESSIONALS APRIL 24, 2003
- SHORT AND LONG TERM INTERVENTION FOR SUPERVISORS APRIL 25, 2003

8:00 am-5:00 pm Outreach School Bldg., Beta House, Medicine Bow Room
This three day seminar is intended for three levels of mental health intervention in disaster: the most immediate responders, usually paraprofessionals; the more long-term intervenors, mental health professionals; and those who supervise both short and long term mental health response. The three days build upon each other, although day two can be taken as a stand-alone unit. Supervisors should attend at least days two and three. In this seminar, participants will learn trauma-informed crisis response, with the ultimate aim of ameliorating--or even preventing--trauma acquisition and loss of functioning. The latest research in the field will be discussed, including topics such as timing of interventions, the advisability of debriefing, and the impact of trauma on special populations, such as children. (21 total Contact Hours, 7 per day)

SUICIDE RISK ASSESSMENT AND RISK REDUCTION:

TACTICS FOR THE TRENCHES

MAY 3, 2003

8:00 am-5:00 pm Outreach School Bldg., Beta House, Meadowlark Room
This workshop focuses on enhancing the participant's knowledge of pragmatic approaches to suicide risk assessment; recognition of common and potentially fatal errors in risk assessment; and risk assessment tactics that support the potential for positive intervention. We will identify the ways in which the traditional suicide assessment questions (ideation, plan and means) are inadequate, the flaws of suicide prediction in contrast to the value of risk assessment, and the risks and benefits of various short-term responses to suicide risk, such as hospitalization versus outpatient treatment. The emphasis is on assessment approaches and options for immediate response to risk, rather than on psychotherapy techniques.

GOAL: To provide essential information in suicide risk assessment and short-term risk reduction, for individuals who may need to perform some level of risk assessment in the course of their professional duties. (7 Contact Hours)
