Don't Let Obstacles Get In Your Way

Gates, water crossings, bridges, bikers, rain slickers, trash bins, and more, OH MY! Have you ever been on the trail and had an obstacle "get in your way"? We've all been there and it's not fun having to deal with these frustrating situations, especially when your horse has decided the obstacle is impossible or that it's the boogey monster coming to get him. For some of these obstacles the key is to practice with your horse before you take him on the trail. These obstacles we like to classify as "trainable" and they are things such as opening the gate, crossing the bridge, and going through water. For others, that our horses deem the "boogey monster" obstacles, the key is desensitizing your horse to many things that move and make a noise. We like to classify these obstacles as "treatable." Let's face it, horses have been programmed to react first and think later and a lot of times we just take that as "it". With a little effort on our part, we can change this philosophy and have all our horses thinking first with little to no reaction. Wouldn't that be great? It can be done! Promise!

In the first part of this training activity, Jillian will be working with a demo horse to show you techniques to re-program your horse to think first, therefore alleviating a lot of the reaction. We will then have people bring their own horses into the mix to do hands on work. In the second part of the training, we will practice on many of the obstacles that your horse has deemed "impossible" and show them that they really are possible. We will have a bridge crossing, a gate to open and close (from horseback), some tight spaces to go in and out of, etc.

Please join us for this informative and FUN training session. Make sure to secure your spot and RSVP to Jillian and Kay.

We will also have PRIZES for horses that improve their "thinking" the most and for a little fun TRIVIA at the end of this event.

Giving Back To Our Community - Trail Maintenance

Are WE Good Stewards of the Lands We Ride On?

Lion Gulch trail has had some serious water damage this spring.

We have two things to consider:

1. Larimer County Department of Natural Resources asked if LCHA could assist in replacing a stock tank on West Ridge trail on Saturday, May 22. Mike Triplett, LCHA's new coordinator for trail maintenance sent an email to all our members asking for volunteers to help with this task. ONLY TWO (2) PERSONS RESPONDED. That's 2 out of over 150 members! I know it's true that lots of things are happening this time of year, but, really, only 2? It is Circle All That Apply A) a shame B) a disgrace C) a joke D) to be expected; after all, no one really wants to do trail maintenance E) Only A and B are true.

2. Hugh Templeton and USDA Forest Service Ranger Kristy Wumkes hiked Lion Gulch Trail on May 19. They only hiked about 1.5 miles because the stream that usually trickles down the gulch was running high and hard. Neither of them had ever seen so much water in the stream. Naturally, the trail shows water damage, some of it not as serious as they expected (our maintenance has protected the trail) but some of it more serious than they wanted to see.

Higher on the trail, Kristy and Hugh looked over a particularly difficult section of the trail, and Hugh proposed a reroute to avoid it. After some discussion, and some walking of various possible reroutes, Kristy agreed to allow LCHA to build a reroute to make that part of the trail much safer for all.

We have a trail maintenance trip scheduled for Lion Gulch Trail on Saturday, June 5. Since we want to fix a couple of dangerous problems on the trail and since we want to reroute the trail past the dangerous, steep, uphill section, we need a lot of people so that the work load is lighter for everyone.

Set aside Saturday, June 5, for trail maintenance on Lion Gulch Trail. We meet at the trail head at 8:30 AM. Sign up by calling or emailing Hugh Templeton at 970-622-0982 or hught@lpbroadband.net for directions and so that he can have the proper number of tools.

See YOU on the trail.

Trailer Challenge

The club's first-ever Trailer Challenge hosted 15 drivers at Gilnocky Equestrian Center on May 8th. Most of them came to improve their maneuvering abilities at the Skills Stations, and more than half of them competed in the Obstacle Course contest.

A driver begins her run through the Obstacle Course

The Skills Stations covered tips for hitching up more easily and safely, backing straight, and backing into a parking space. The Obstacle Course contest required drivers to perform maneuvers in tight spaces, such as backing straight, backing in a turn, and weaving forward and backward through a line of barrels.

Joe Andrews coaches a driver on backing straight

Here are the contest results in each of the two divisions:

Men's Division:

- 1st - Ed Stetson
- 2nd - Hugh Templeton
- 3rd - Mark Schleicher

Women's Division:

- 1st - Kristin Schuett
- 2nd - Cindy Loader
- 3rd - Kim Andrews

The winner in each division received a cap with the LCHA logo that said "Trailer Challenge 2010 Winner."

A big thank you goes out to all the volunteers who helped with course setup, judging the contest, and teaching at the Skills Stations. Many of the drivers commented on how much they appreciated the opportunity to learn more about hauling and to practice improving their skills.

Emergency Evacuation Teams Look for New Recruits

Several years ago, the Bobcat fire started near Drake and spread rapidly. People living in its path had little time to evacuate themselves or their animals. Some folks spray painted their horses with a phone number and turned the horses loose to fend for themselves: they could not do anything else. The fire eventually scorched several thousand acres.

One of the things we learned from this fire was this: No organized evacuation plan was in place to help evacuees get their animals to safety.

Soon afterward, LCHA organized emergency evacuation teams, and contacted Larimer County to let them know that we have people ready and willing to help in case of emergency. LCHA and Larimer County now have a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). The MOU states that LCHA has teams ready to assist the county if the need for emergency evacuation arises.

A wildfire in progress. Fires are not the only emergencies that may require an LCHA emergency evacuation team call-out.

We have also discussed our teams with Loveland Fire and Rescue, who have been training responders in “technical rescue” of large animals (for example, getting a horse out of a muddy ditch or transporting a horse that has been involved in a trailer accident). LCHA has agreed to respond to Loveland Fire and Rescue evacuation or transportation needs.

Teams Need New Members

Over time, some folks have become unable to remain on the evacuation teams. We now find that we need additional emergency evacuation team members. We try to keep several teams trained and ready for call-outs. Why? Call-outs may occur at any time. If a call-out occurs during the daytime when many of us are at work and are unable to respond right away, we still need some team members who can respond immediately. If a call-out is large and requires a prolonged time commitment, we also need teams who, although they did not respond immediately, can respond later and support the initial responders.

No LCHA team member may respond to a call-out alone: Anyone responding to an emergency scene (drivers) MUST have a partner with them.

Not all team members are drivers. We also need communications coordinators – people who can use the telephone to coordinate our responses with the county, call out our teams giving them accurate situation information and instructions, and maintain a record of which teams are active and their locations during the call-out.

Trained Teams

We agree to train our evacuation teams so that we can work with emergency managers (county, state, or national). All of our team members receive training:

- Trailer inspections
- Driving (to keep our maneuvering as sharp as possible)
- Call-out procedures
- Telephone coordination procedures
- Incident Command System (ICS) concepts and procedures (required by the county)
- Horse loading (your horse may load easily into your trailer, but will anyone else’s horse load into it?)

Your Interest?

Are you interested in joining the emergency evacuation teams? If so, call Hugh Templeton at 970-622-0982 (best time is after 7 PM) or email him at hught@lpbroadband.net to indicate your interest. Include your email and phone number. Hugh will give you additional information about the teams, and will request some information from you.

The emergency evacuation teams are an important part of LCHA’s community involvement. We welcome your participation.

Successful Trail Rides

(In Spite of the Weather, and other things ... )

Bobcat Ridge on Sunday, April 11

We had six riders who were happy to be out on the trails after several soggy weeks of rain. As it was the first LCHA ride of the season, it was a walk only ride and that's what we did, while enjoying both the North and South lower trails at Bobcat Ridge. Everyone had a great time, the horses were all well behaved and weather was beautiful!

Eagle's Nest on Friday, April 16

This ride was rescheduled to Sunday, April 18, due to weather. When we finally got into the saddle, it was a great ride.... what happened you ask? Well, the Eagle's Nest parking lot was full of trailers, so we tried Lone Pine. After getting saddled at Lone Pine, we realized that the trail opened on MAY 1st, not MARCH 1st. So we put the horses (wearing their saddles) back in the trailer and headed up to Mount Margaret where we finally got to ride! It was a beautiful day, the horses were very well behaved and because it was only Bonnie Robinson and myself, we spent time working on our skills opening and closing the gates while mounted.

Ride Limitations

Some LCHA trail rides have been large. When large numbers of people sign up for trial rides, the ride leader may take one or more of the following actions:

- Encourage horse pooling (if parking space is an issue)
- Limit the number of riders (if this happens, the ride leader will take people on a first come, first served basis, and then will create a waiting list and call people on the waiting list if someone else cancels)
- Depending on the nature of the trail and the experience level of the horse and rider, the ride leader may suggest that some riders not attend a specific ride.

All trail ride sign-ups are strictly on a first-come, first served basis.

Insurance Concerns

The LCHA Board of Directors discovered that our insurance company has been charging an additional fee for each event we sponsor in which non-members can participate. In Board discussions, we decided that we need to keep many of our events open to the public, but we also need to keep some events for members only to limit our insurance costs. Keeping the balance is important. Please notice that the calendar now marks some events Open and other events LCHA Members Only.
