LAURA LAGANA PRESENTS ...

KEEPING THE "U" IN VOLUNTEER

Volunteers are a vital part of our world and the heart of community unity. Their helping hands and generous hearts make a huge difference. This interactive session explores:

- ◆ What motivates people to volunteer
- ◆ What makes them "tick"
- ◆ What keeps them coming back for more
- ◆ "How To" tips on utilizing the volunteer's unique talents while keeping the "spark" of enthusiasm alive

MASTERING STRESS, BEATING BURNOUT

Stress is part of life. Preserve your health and peace of mind by making time for what is important to you. Instead of working harder, work smarter. The key is in learning:

- ◆ What stress is
- ◆ How to live with it successfully
- ◆ Letting stress work for you, instead of against you
- ◆ How to master the "stress response"

SERVICE: SHARE THE ENTHUSIAM, SPREAD THE WORD

Promotes self-awareness and encourages volunteers, those engaged in community service, as well as directors to:

- ◆ Become more aware of how important they are to their communities
- ◆ Make the most of newly acquired information to attract new "helping-hands"
- ◆ Relax, have a good time, and appreciate the camaraderie

SHARING KINDNESS, CHANGING LIVES

Everyone has the potential to make a positive impact in our world and to make a difference. This presentation illustrates that each one of us has the ability to change another's life, whether through a formal volunteer position, or through random acts of kindness.

THE HEART OF COMMUNITY UNITY (Keynote)

This inspirational and energizing keynote presentation reminds volunteers just how vital their collective time and talents are to the health and wholeness of their communities.

TOUCH, INSPIRE, AND HEAL THROUGH STORIES

The words, "Once upon a time . . ." create instant intrigue. The revelation "Let me tell you what happened yesterday . . ." draws people around the office coffee machine like bees to a hive. In all societies, stories have served as vehicles for sharing the human experience. Today, communicating globally via the Internet has opened up a world of new possibilities for writing and sharing our stories. In the midst of our complex, stress-filled lives, stories continue to add purpose and meaning to our lives. Participants will find out how:

- ◆ Narratives provide clarity, direction and meaning to our lives (i.e., journal, diary)
- ◆ Writing and telling personal stories has a positive impact
- ◆ Shared stories can be a therapeutic and beneficial experience
