

Grandfather's Home (Track 13 on Fable - Live at the Odeum Theater)

Sailed my ship into Galway Bay
Dropped my anchor in her waters
Looked out over the land of my fathers
For the first time, felt like I was home

A storm on the wind, you can feel in the weather
Rolling green hills, blood on the heather
Too many martyred in the name of Queen mother
It's father to son - it's brother against brother
In my Grandfather's home
In my Grandfather's home

It's always the same when the children die
In Belfast or London the parents still cry
The blood of their youth, the tears of their mothers
Can never erase the sins of their brothers
In my Grandfather's home
In my Grandfather's home

So, see who you will, Vicar or Priest
And pray to your God but the killing must cease
Hold out your hand though it trembles and shakes
Before another child dies, before another heart breaks
In my Grandfather's home
In my Grandfather's home

So, see who you will, Vicar or Priest
And pray to your God but the killing must cease
Hold out your hand though it trembles and shakes
Before another child dies, before another heart breaks
In my Grandfather's home

Lyrics by John Crafton Jr. and C.W. Johnson. Music written and arranged by John Crafton Jr. Produced and recorded by John Spreier live at the Odeum Theater in East Greenwich, Rhode Island on September 19, 1998. Bass guitar and harmony vocals by Anthony Gavoli. Lead vocals by J.Q. Crafton. Percussion and harmony vocals by Joshua Willis. Six string acoustic guitar and lead vocals by John Crafton Jr. Twelve string acoustic guitar and harmony vocals by John Spreier.

© 1993 ASCAP. All rights reserved.