

The Bottom Line (Track 10 on Allagash - Live at the Rustic Well)

Well if you wanna take a lesson then you better stop a messin with the U.S. economy
And I'm just doing you a favor and I know you'll thank me later if you're smart you won't disagree

Well the people think they're paying way too much hear what I'm saying when it's spent on artillery

And we never see your faces disappear without no traces except the polls saying vote for me

I said watch out son cause you seem to be losing your steam

I said slow down son cause you seem to be blinded by greed

Said you're blinded by your greed

Well we put you in the office and you just as soon forgot us with your friends in society
You had a big inauguration that was paid for by the nation though you claim that you disagree

Well you're building up defenses and you cut and raise our taxes don't forget we're your salary

And you're cutting up the budget saying like it or then lump it your lives aren't high priority

I said watch out son cause you seem to be losing your steam

I said slow down son cause you seem to be blinded by greed

Said you're blinded by your greed

I think you've run out of steam

I think you're blinded by greed

Why don't you ride ride ride ride ride in your Cadillac

Ride ride why don't you ride ride ride ride ride in your Cadillac

Why don't you ride ride ride ride ride in your Cadillac

Music by Dave Lieber and John Spreier. Lyrics by John Spreier. Recorded by Jon Jelleyman and John Spreier. Produced by John Spreier. Bass guitar by Jon Jelleyman. Drums by John Guadagni. Electric guitar and vocals by John Spreier.

© Copyright 1976-2002 Barnyard Sounds. All rights reserved.