It's been a while...

I'm sorry it's been so long since I've updated the blog. I've been in the process of moving and have been without access for a little while, but things are back up and running now. The good news is that you, my wonderful audience, get a whole load of license plates on this one!

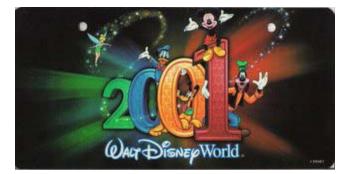

Disney has been producing yearly license plates for some time now. I believe they started this during the millennium celebration and have continued it each year since. I have not posted up all of my license plates, but a selection to sort of whet the appetite. Some of these may show up again later in variant discussions or just a random post.

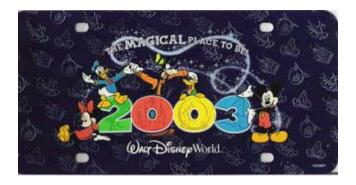

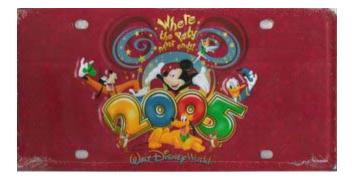

I would also like to ask if there is anything specific that you would like to see, please let me know! I'm always up for anything; it doesn't have to be just about license plates!
