

Mieke's Voice - Week 14 - Introduction to part 2

Do you know what the most valuable asset is in my life? The things I invest in and value the most? My relationships.

All my relationships influenced and helped shape me into who I am today. I have learned many valuable lessons from my interactions with the people in my life. I realize the importance of the relationships with my parents, siblings, my family, friends, boyfriends, husband, kids, neighbors, colleagues and even strangers. I also recognize my relationships with the Earth, nature, animals, plants and also those beyond this Earth. My first and primary relationship is with myself. I value and appreciate all of them immensely.

In the following episodes I will illustrate how my relationships are supporting and guiding me on my journey in this life. By expanding my awareness and challenging me, I was led to unite with Paul and the kids. I started realizing my personal relationship with the Divine; the energetic and vibrational source of all life. I know now that in our core we humans are more alike than different. We are all connected in this thing called life and every single choice, thought, emotion or action interacts as a dance with every other action, thought, emotion and choice. I have immense gratitude for all my relationships; the pleasant ones, the challenging ones and all those colorful varieties in between.

Without all of you I could not be me! Thank you for being part of my life!
