

Currently, the Cuban people are enduring the destructive effects of two natural catastrophes (Hurricanes Gustav and Ike) on already distressing living conditions that have been deteriorating for five decades.

