

Tell Me...

Please tell me, can it be?
Is there something
I just don't see?

Should I ride out the storm?
Should I let it be?
Should I get involved with things concerning me?

I like to talk to people,
and I like to make them smile,
but I need to cope with me
If just for a little while.

I like to feel secure
and I like to feel free,
but as you get older
It's what you need to be.

You must stay in control,
control for peace of mind,
Because when you start to fall apart
that's when your life's like mine...
