Jay Flanzraich and his Albuquerque Crazyhorse won Fantasy Bowl XII, 101-35 over Mark Espanet and No Fear at The Serpenterium in Las Vegas, NV. Flanzraich became the first owner to win a championship in his expansion season. It is also the first season in FFL history that the entire postseason went to form with every higher seed winning.

Los Caballo Loco got off to a fast start thanks to 29-point outburst by the Eagles defense. The entire unit was named Fantasy Bowl XII MVP. One of the last moves, Flanzraich made before rosters were frozen at the start of the playoffs was to claim QB Patrick Ramsey off waivers. Ramsey led the Crazyhorse to victory in last week's semifinal win over Keene and in the title tilt with No Fear, the rookie QB out of Tulane scored a game high 31. "Patty Ramsey won us the title," exclaimed a champagne soaked Flanzraich in the home locker room at The Serpenterium. "A closer look at the numbers shows that we should have scored more than we did. Ricky (Williams) and Travis (Henry only combined for 14. In a normal week, they score that individually." Kicker Jay Feely added 18 in the Chairman's second victory this season over The Commish.

No Fear played like they were partying late on the Vegas Strip Saturday night. The 35 points scored set a Fantasy Bowl record as well as an FFL playoff record for fewest points scored in a postseason game. Team Fearless also becomes the third team to lose the title game in consecutive seasons. It is also the third straight season that a coach with the last name Espanet has lost the season's final game. The Liberty conference champs only had two players' score in double figures led by RB Clinton Portis' 12. Fearless QB Brett Favre could only muster 11. Espanet also becomes the first owner to lose three Fantasy Bowl games. On the bright side, Espanet is the only owner to play in four title games.
